BOND ELECTION ABOUT DEC. 20 IN LAWRENCE COUNTY

It is now hoped to have a vote about Dec. 20th on issuing bonds for building hard roads in Lawrence county. This is as soon as a vote would be possible under the law and if it should be delayed longer we may miss the opportunity to get in on the government money, amounting to 50 per cent of the cost of whatever roads the U. S. helps on. This is too large a gift to overlook.

There seems to be a stronger sentiment for bonds than ever before in Lawrence county and the people should have a chance to vote on it. Nobody should object to giving the citizens an opportunity to express their sentiments on this all important enterprise.

YATESVILLE

We have but little oil news to report this week. The Conley well has gone in good, and the Ohio Fuel has the machinery set on the land of R. Blankenship and drilling will be started early the present week.

We have learned that the machinery is set on the land of A. Collinsworth at the mouth of Twin Branch and that operation is to be begun at once. The Ohio Fuel Oil company has now done several pretty good gas wells, so that now they use but very little coal in their operations in this end of their field.

Born on the 3rd inst., to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Huletto, a Red Cross nurse and on the 9th inst. to George (Friskey) Carter and wife, also a Red Cross nurse. It appears that by the next time we have to lick Germany Uncle Sam will have plenty of Red Cross nurses to take care of his boys that may get hurt.

We see a great many court goers on the road this week.

Death Takes the Wife of L. G. Ferguson

The death of Mrs. Lindsey G. Ferguson occurred Monday morning after an illness of a year or more with tuberculosis.

A LARGE CROWD HEARD GOV. BLACK

Governor James D. Black arrived at Louisa last Monday morning and was met by a large reception committee, headed by A. G. Carter, County Campaign chairman, and G. W. Castie, secretary. A procession formed, headed by a brass band, and marched to Mayor Snyder's office, where hundreds shook hands with the Governor as the procession filed by. Throughout the morning a reception was held.

The Governor was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Castie and a few guests were present at the delicious dinner served there.

At one o'clock the Governor was greeted at the court house by a large crowd from the court room would contain. Many were standing. After a brief introduction by Mr. Castie the Governor arose to speak and was greeted by hearty applause. He spoke for two hours, holding his audience easily.

Gov. Black's speech was a complete refutation of Morrow's charges. His speech was dignified and convincing and no one who heard the speech will be afraid to trust him in any position. He impresses his audiences with his sincerity and his clean personal life.

Gov. Black spoke at Paintsville Monday night and at Prestonsburg Tuesday afternoon.

WEST VIRGINIA ITEMS OF NEWS

Negro Taken to Welch.

B. Anderson, the Georgia negro accused of assaulting Mrs. Gilbert Scarborough at Huntington on the morning of the 15th, was first taken to the jail of this county, but fearing a mob from Huntington, it was thought best to take him farther away from the scene of the crime, and he was taken from this county to the McDowell county jail at Welch.

It is to be hoped his trial will not be delayed. If he is proven guilty his punishment cannot be too severe.—Credro Advance.

Killed By Moonshine.

Robert George, colored, is dead, and Grover Hall is seriously ill while John Kovach, is slightly ill, as the result of drinking moonshine liquor at Sprigg, W. Va.

It seems that the moonshine was brought into Sprigg by persons unknown, and disposed of to the three men who are miners employed at the Sprigg mines. It is said that all three of them took two drinks apiece before any ill effects were noticed. Then George became very sick and medical attention was secured for him. In a short time Hall was also very ill. The stuff seemed to have little effect on Kovach, who was only slightly indisposed.

MORE OIL WELLS COMING IN HERE

The Cumberland Pipe Line company has been delayed in the completion of its line from Blaine to Busseyville by the excessive rains of the last several days. It is almost completed, however. This company is erecting a telegraph line covering its system in Lawrence county and the line is now near Louisa, which will be the chief office. A building on a lot recently purchased from J. P. Garlin in the upper part of Louisa, will contain the offices of the Cumberland.

Watkins & Preston, contractors, are drilling a well for the New Domain on the John B. Thompson farm near Busseyville and will start one on F. R. Bussey's land within a few days. They moved their two outfits here from Lee county recently.

A better well than the average in that vicinity was drilled in on the A. L. Moore farm two miles from Louisa. It is on a corner of the farm, about 250 feet from Thad Ranson's farm, and the same distance from lands of C. B. Peters and J. Q. Lackey. The New Domain owns the lease.

Well No. 4 is being started on the Conley lease.

John M. Stage's company is drilling a well on the S. K. Muncy land and also has a location in the Dry Ridge vicinity.

Mr. Shamburg represents a company owning some leases on Rockcastle creek on the Tug river side and it is said the property will be prospected.

Tom Hayes has just completed a well on the Yates lease. It seems to have penetrated a place in the sand that is somewhat broken and defective. It will probably make a small producer.

The Jones Drilling company has completed two wells in the Busseyville neighborhood. One is a fair producer and the other is light.

In Memory.

Of Mrs. Thomas Asche, who died July 12, 1919.

I cannot say—

And I will not say—

That she is dead. She is just away!

With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand

She has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be, since she lingers there.

And you—oh, you—who the wildest yearn

For the old-time step and the glad return—

Think of her faring on as near

In the love of There, as the love of Here.

Think of her still as the same, I say,

She is not dead—she is just away.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take
"Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR PRISONS IN RECENT YEARS

Morrow's Statements Refuted by the Records and by the Evidence of a Prominent Woman Critic.

Ed. Morrow is making his campaign for Governor chiefly upon a general charge that Kentucky's prisons and asylums have been very badly managed. Here is what he said in a recent speech:

"For the past eight years, Kentucky has been chained and disgraced by the political control of its charitable and penal institutions. Against this outrage on the helpless and defenseless inmates of these institutions the best minds of Kentucky have protested for years. This system of political control has been denounced by every meeting of physicians and by repeated resolutions of the Associated Women's Clubs in Kentucky, and against it every right thinking man and every humanitarian has registered his protest."

In order to get a correct idea of the kind of a campaign Morrow is making, let's go back nearly eight years for a start. He names that period because it reaches back to the close of the last Republican administration.

(Kentucky's penal institutions comprise two penitentiaries and a reform school, with a total population of 2500 to 3000.)

Prison Reforms.

Seven years and four months ago Gov. McCreary's administration took charge of these institutions.

The first important reform was abolishing the whipping of prisoners, which had been the chief mode of punishment for 100 years.

Part of the earnings of prisoners were paid to their families and themselves under a law that had not before been put into effect.

Night schools were established in the prisons with 1000 to 1200 pupils, whose interest was accentuated by prizes and personal attention from the higher officials.

Prison guards were dismissed for being under the influence of liquor either on or off duty.

Guards were no longer permitted to swear at prisoners or abuse them. Only in clear cases of self defense were they authorized to strike a prisoner.

Employees prohibited from contributing to campaign funds or interfering in elections.

Diseased prisoners separated from the others and given special treatment. Better food furnished and greater cleanliness required.

Close supervision of paroled men, finding employment and encouraging them to lead correct lives and protecting them when imposed upon by employers.

Prisoners warned against employing attorneys when seeking paroles, thus stopping a practice that had been much abused. Warden and guards were instructed to search for cases of ignorant and helpless men deserving consideration for paroles and many such were found.

The vast amount of food, clothing, etc. required for the institutions were bought quarterly under competitive bidding after advertising the lettings, open to everybody, with samples submitted and the stock required to come up to sample. No favoritism was shown in making purchases. The lowest bidder for the quality desired got the contract in every instance.

The practice of buying fresh meat from Chicago packers was abandoned in favor of buying cattle from Kentucky farmers and slaughtering it, using prison labor for the work, and saving a large sum of money annually, in addition to getting better meat.

Changed the methods of buying coal so as to save thousands of dollars each year.

Every reference to politics was rebuked when made by persons pleading for paroles.

Upon recommendation of the Prison Commission the Legislature of 1914 authorized renting farms near the prisons and securing option to purchase if a future Legislature considered it advisable after trial. At Frankfort a 465 acre farm was rented and successfully operated, furnishing enormous quantities of food products and pasturage for cows and beef cattle, hogs and sheep. At Eddyville the same course was successfully employed.

At the Reform School a motherly woman, experienced as a nurse and housekeeper, was made assistant Superintendent and did great work in many ways to the unfortunate boys and girls there. Industrial plants were established to teach trades. A modern dairy was built and the children were given milk instead of coffee. Their food was improved, a new hospital was built, and conditions generally bettered.

In the penitentiaries some labor contracts had been let during Gov. Augustus E. Wilson's administration for eight years, extending entirely through the McCreary administration, with no chance to change them, but on one contract that expired near the close, new contractors were induced to come in on a contract for two years, thus bringing some much needed competition into the prison.

Wonder what more Mr. Morrow could do under existing laws than has been done by the Democrats? We challenge him to show a single act of that board that was not above suspicion and that was not actuated by the best motives and without a thought of politics.

Mrs. Beauchamp's Verdict.

It is a well known fact that Mrs. Francis E. Beauchamp, of Paris, Ky., who has a national reputation as a W. C. T. U. lecturer, and as a leader in women's clubs and kindred organizations has devoted years to prison work and study. She has visited prisoners in many States and is unusually well informed on the subject.

Some time ago Mrs. Beauchamp voluntarily contributed a lengthy article to the Lexington Herald and other papers, dealing with the conditions at the Frankfort penitentiary. The McCreary administration had appointed A. J. G. Wells as warden at Frankfort and John B. Chilton at Eddyville, and the latter is still there doing efficient work.

Following are some extracts from Mrs. Beauchamp's article, enough to correct the false impression which Morrow's statement seeks to make:

"If Governor McCreary does nothing else in the administration, he ought to be rewarded in both time and eternity for appointing a progressive Prison Board, men who care for the State wards who are dependent on their wisdom, justice and mercy, and they, with this Governor, should receive commendation for the warden appointed."

Conditions Vastly Improved.

"For twenty years the writer has regularly visited the penitentiary to hold or assist in religious services with the prisoners. In these years we have learned to read the expression on the faces of the prisoners and to understand the management. At times the expression of despair has brought to mind the sentence, 'Abandon hope, all ye who enter here.'"

"Again, there has been light, just a little, but now as soon as you enter the prison walls, or the chapel, the human expression breathes of hope. Labor, hard labor, they have, but no brutal injustice, and a chance is given, and that is all the men ask."

"The object of the State is two-fold, viz: to protect society and to reform the prisoner, and send him back to society later on to be a worthy citizen. Judge Wells, under the direction and with the co-operation of the prison commissioner, is striving to do this very thing and with proper support and time enough, he will prove the most valuable official in the State in reclaiming men and sending them forth to do a man's part in the world."

Gives Them a Chance.

"Let the State give these fellows a chance, and she is giving them a small chance through the administration of such men. This has been abolished; the stripes have been abolished; the wretched fare has been abolished; the convict leasing system shall be abolished. These men, the State's moral crimes, will one day be placed on farms and work on public roads. Meantime, humane officials are doing all the law allows. The first step is the graded suits; the men have neat gray suits, and honor men have blue caps. Only misconduct on the part of the prisoner reduces him to stripes."

"The men have a chance, and are required to take two shower baths a week. A good laundry furnishes them with clean clothes, each cell is daily burned out, plenty of good drinking water is furnished. The mattresses that were too dirty for a dog to sleep on are being replaced with clean beds. The insect pest has thus been entirely abolished. The tuberculosis patients and the syphilitic cases are both segregated, not under ideal conditions it is true, but under the best of the old cell-house, 115 years old, affords. All the deadly odors which almost suffocated one on entering have been banished under the purifying influence of fire. Abundance of plain, healthy food is provided on clean tables, from which enervated wares. The bakery could be used as a model, and the 2,200 loaves of bread baked each day would be a credit to any bakery, being sweet and wholesome. The prisoners take pride in the clean and orderly condition of things."

"The long-dreaded night school, which was to follow the lighting, is at last realized, and 600 of the 1,420 prisoners avail themselves of the privilege. The school was only started last spring, and a number have already learned to read and write. Classes up to the fourth grade have been organized, and eighteen white boys are taking stenography."

"It is the hope of the prison authorities that in a short time they can say that no man will leave the reformatory who cannot read and write, and when we recall that the chief causes of crime, as shown by evidence in trials are illiteracy and drink, we will see the value and importance of this work."

Guards Behave Better.

"Of the score and more prisoners interviewed, all testified that the guards no longer used profane and obscene language, that the prisoners were no longer threatened and abused by guards under the influence of liquor. The guards are not allowed to borrow money from a prisoner or to gamble with the prisoner. They are not allowed to beat or abuse the prisoners, except in self-defense. The men universally testified that the Warden's Forum Sunday afternoon contributed greatly to the better understanding and resulted in better conditions. The prisoners feel they can have a 'square deal,' and that while the warden requires and enforces obedience to prison law, at the same time he sees that they have the protection of that same law. Guards in general testify to the better conditions and improved life of the prisoners."

"Religious services by the chaplain and those he calls to his aid and with a chaplain who knows his parishioners, and who is working in harmony with the warden is another elevating helpful influence."

"The prison library must not be omitted. It is located in a plain neat room off from the chapel, with a gentle, kind, orderly old man as librarian, with a fair collection of books which the prisoners have issued to them, and which they read in their cells, is a most interesting feature. About 75, on an average, use the library each day."

Present Conditions.

This writer is informed that practically all of these reforms have been continued to this time. The law authorizing the payment of a part of the earnings to prisoners has been nullified by the Court of Appeals and is therefore not in effect.

Red Cross Peace Program Detailed

National Leader to Address Chapter Delegates at the State Meeting

DOCTOR LIVINGSTON FARRAND, Chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, will visit Lexington, Ky., Indianapolis, Ind., and Cleveland, Ohio, the three states of the Lake Division, on October 20, 21 and 22. Chapter chairmen and delegates have been invited by division headquarters to attend these meetings and hear, at first hand, the far-reaching plan for Red Cross peace-time service.

With its war-time task not fully performed, the Red Cross is concentrating overseas on relieving after-war conditions, and in caring for men still in service.

The traditional responsibility of preparedness to offer relief in times of famine, fire and floods, will be part of the new peace-time service. In addition, the Red Cross chapters are continuing their organization to include the Public Health, Nursing, Educational Classes in Dietetics, Home Care of the Sick, and First Aid.

Home Service to civilian families and community work through the Junior Red Cross organization.

The development of Community Health Centers, completely organized, where the official and volunteer agencies can be co-ordinated and brought into harmonious relations for protecting and promoting community health efficiency, is the big offering of the Red Cross to the people in American communities in carrying out its plan for peace-time service. Chapters are to supplement and not supplant the efforts of established and effective agencies.

In Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, the details of the health center plan will be given to chapter delegates and the public by Doctor Farrand and other National Headquarters officials, at the state meeting just announced.

Red Cross Helps Returned Soldiers In Compensation

MANY returned soldiers do not yet understand that the government furnishes compensation for mental disabilities as well as for physical. The Lake Division headquarters of the Red Cross, Cleveland, reports that 2,500 men in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky are being treated for mental disabilities—shell shock and other ailments—either incurred during the period of service or resulting from military service.

In any part of the country a properly established claim for help of this sort will be met promptly. The simplest way of getting such a claim established is through the Home Service department of the Red Cross. Application may be made at any Red Cross office, chapter or branch, and it will be referred to the proper bureau.

Disaster Relief Work

PREPAREDNESS for disaster relief on a scale never before possible is being undertaken by the American Red Cross as one of the important features of its peace program. Support of this program will be asked in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2-11.

Statistics show that since 1900, disasters of peace-time have brought personal injury to 1,500,000 persons, at the same time destroying property valued at over $1,000,000. During 1917 alone, eighty disasters were aided by the Red Cross.

This situation demands a preparedness for emergency relief and that is what the Red Cross is to supply. Red Cross chapters everywhere will create disaster preparedness committees that will make surveys locating food, hospital supplies, clothing, buildings for housing refugees, and will also canvass for physicians, nurses and social workers prepared to respond instantly to emergency calls.

In the case of great disasters where the resources of the division in which it occurs is over-taxed, the entire relief strength of the Red Cross in the country may be mobilized through national headquarters.

Red Cross chapters, division offices and the national office are planning to put disaster relief on such a sound basis that it will become nation-wide in scope, and will assure for all emergencies a swift mobilization and application of whatever funds, supplies and experienced workers may be needed.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel, just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salfate. Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

That Morning Lameness

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Louisa testimony.

Osburn G. Smith, ex-city marshal, Franklin St., Louisa, says: "When my back first began hurting me, I didn't know it was kidney trouble; I thought it was due to over-work but it kept on aching and paining until I felt so tired and miserable, I knew it couldn't be anything but my kidneys. I am on my feet constantly and subject to bad weather and this aggravated the complaint. Sometimes my back was so sore and stiff, I could hardly stoop and at night, it pained me so much, I couldn't rest. Mornings I was so lame, I could hardly get around. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Louisa Drug Co.'s store cured me. My back has been strong since and hasn't bothered me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

How many readers of the NEWS, especially former citizens of Lawrence county know that you should support the county weekly paper. A county weekly depends upon the people of its county for its support, and if everyone doesn't subscribe for and help the editor make a good paper they can't expect to have a county paper that they are proud of.

Most county papers club with a daily so you can subscribe for your county weekly and a daily at one time. Every farmer should subscribe for his county paper and the best farm paper he knows about.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For State Senate.
We are authorized to announce Hon. BRIG H. HARRIS, of Boyd county, as a candidate for the State Senate from the district composed of Boyd, Lawrence, Johnson and Martin counties, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Senator Beckham will speak at Ashland next Monday afternoon.

Send a man to the Legislature who can and will do things. E. E. Shannon fills the bill.

The steel strike is a failure. Men are returning to work and the country has its eyes open about foreign labor. It is to be hoped this experience will result in getting rid of these cattle.

A strike of union coal miners has been ordered for November 1 to enforce their demands for a six hour day and a five day week, with 60 per cent increase in wages. This is so far beyond the limit of reason that it ought to result in breaking up the union.

Gov. Black was very much surprised to learn the position Mr. Morrow took at Louisa on the dog tax matter, as it was exactly opposite to his declaration in another part of the State where the sentiment appeared to be different.

The Senate is still chowing over the League of Nations delaying peace and disgusting the public. They could have voted on it two months ago just as well as now. The country is not interested in their speeches, but wants to know how they are going to vote.

The district composed of Lawrence and Elliott counties has a candidate for the Legislature who is a successful business man. He is alert and industrious, in sympathy with the needs and desires of the constituents of this district. As the representative he will be of real service to the people. We refer to Mr. E. E. Shannon.

The longshoremen in New York went out on a strike last week refusing to handle any supplies for the people of that great city. One of the leaders declared the city could starve unless the demands of the union were granted. Soldiers were sent there to do the most necessary part of the work and now the strikers want to get back to their jobs.

Gov. Black made a clean, conservative speech here Monday, with no effort to fool anybody to catch their votes. A lot of the talk about "cleaning house at Frankfort" is mere election thunder intended to deceive voters. Gov. Black may be depended upon to do any house cleaning that is needed. Those who know him best do not doubt this.

President Wilson's condition continues to show improvement, but his physicians are trying very hard to keep him from discussing any business. Complete rest for some weeks is planned. One of the meanest acts ever seen in such a case is the insinuation in the Senate and elsewhere that his mind is impaired. He is so much smarter than the fellows who are guilty of this that they would like to see him lose his mind.

Influenza Again
Appears Among Us

With influenza again among us, wisdom and foresight dictate that every family should prepare to prevent and combat this disease. In the interest of humanity, physicians and laymen who were so successful last year in treating influenza, Colds, Grippe, Croup and other diseases of the respiratory organs are recommending as the most effective treatment, the external remedy

Brame's Vapomenthia Salve, when applied to the chest and throat penetrates the pores of the skin and breaks up the congestion, at the same time healing vapors are carried direct to the infected membranes of the nasal passages, causing the phlegm to be loosened and inducing restful sleep. Brame's Vapomenthia Salve may be obtained at every drug store, or it may be had from the manufacturers direct, the Brame Drug Company, of North Wilkesboro, N. C. Sold in three sizes, 30c, 60c, and $1.00. Complete directions accompany every package.

POLITICAL NEWS
IN STATE RACE

In regard to Morrow's blanket charges of graft at Frankfort Governor Black made this fair proposition:

"I ask him to tell the people of Kentucky who is a grafter at Frankfort. The man who makes such charges ought to know who the guilty men are. I say to Mr. Morrow that if he will start an investigation of any man's conduct, the grand juries and petit juries are ready to do their duty, and as long as I am governor no state official fairly convicted will be pardoned by me."

"Again Governor Black challenged Morrow to tell whether he opposed the ratification of the peace treaty and the League of Nations."

Gov. Black says:—"Mr. Morrow says there are 314 names on the state payroll that ought not to be there. If that is true, those employees should be done away with. I am entitled to know, and you taxpayers are entitled to know who these 314 are. Mr. Morrow, if you can't name them all, give us the names of a dozen of them."

The statement of increased expenditures by the last Democratic administration, compared with Willson's, is intended to fool the voters. It does not explain that a State aid road law was passed by the Legislature just after Willson's term closed and that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been properly spent on the roads. It doesn't explain that departments absolutely necessary to Kentucky's development have been established and no Republican administration would dare abolish them. It doesn't explain that the cost of supplies in every department has doubled, just the same as supplies used in the home and in every line of business, because of the war.

The Gov. Willson administration spent more than the Beckham administration, or the Bradley regime, or any other administration previous to that. The State is making some progress all the time and unless we want to drop entirely behind the procession we must expect expenses to increase. There should be no graft—and nobody is pointing out any. The practice of making general charges of this kind is as old as the game of politics. Kentucky has an office of State Examiner and Inspector, filled during the past eight years by high class men. They work continuously examining all departments and looking for graft and irregularities. They work under oath and heavy bond. It is almost impossible to put anything over on them. So it will be found that charges of graft are not worth listening to.

A. T. Hert elected a Republican set of officials in Louisville less than two years ago and is the boss of the city. His administration is costing the taxpayers $600,000 more this year than the year 1917 cost under the Democratic administration. Mr. Ballard, the millionaire partner of millionaire Hert, and candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Republican ticket, has been charging Kentucky people $110 more per barrel for flour than he charged for the same kind in Louisiana and paid the freight all the way down there. Some toll! If these twins get to be the bosses of Kentucky do you believe they will worry about the interests of the great common people of Kentucky? Their millions attest that they have taken heavy toll along their careers.

A Special Showing of Inexpensive Millinery

Five or Ten dollars does not seem much for a hat these days—but you can not afford to be skeptical about the models included in this offer at these very modest prices—for they're surprisingly attractive and unusually well made. New colors, new materials, new trimming effects—to choose a becoming model is quite simple

TAILORED AND SEMI-DRESS STYLES

You may choose from models suited to a variety of occasions in both large and small shapes. There are soft-draped Turkish turbans—tricornes—mushrooms and irregular sailors. They are fashioned from Velvets, Satin Antique and Duveltyne, and are offered in the newer shades of brown, henna, capucine, birds-eye blue, dust and black.

EFFECTIVELY TRIMMED

Trimmings are a fascinating story of variety and newness. Furs, pom-poms, flowers, burnt peacock, touches of hand-embroidery, fancy pins and ribbons—all take their places in this display—deftly placed in a variety of effective ways. It is seldom indeed that millinery of such excellence is so moderately priced and we feel sure that you'll appreciate the opportunity to choose a becoming model while the selection is so complete.

Our farmers are busily engaged making sorghum and cutting corn. A good many side crops were raised this year in order to lessen the high cost of living, which falls about as heavily on farmers as any other class. Farmers get too little for what they produce, consumers pay too much. Most of the profits go to toll takers, food gamblers, distributors and traffickers.

Senator Capper, of Kansas, one of the farmers' friends in Congress, makes the following statement: "A party of five men paid $11 for a plain, square meal at a hotel the other day. The thought struck them to find out what they were paying the farmers for that meal. Here are the figures: Beef, 35c; potatoes, 12c; bread, 2c; butter, 7c; coffee, cream and sugar, 4c; corn, 20c; total, $2c for farmers' share." This was enlightening.

Two hundred and fifty packing cases filled with hospital supplies are to be sent out this week to hospitals in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky from the Red Cross warehouse at the Lake Division headquarters, 2157 Euclid Ave.

These cases contain 2,000,000 articles—pneumonia jackets, absorbent pads, gauze compresses, bandages, night gowns, pajamas and baby clothes. These have been turned in by Red Cross chapters in the Lake Division.

Women who meet each week during the war to make surgical dressings are now meeting at the Red Cross warehouse to inspect garments and pack cases. This work is part of the co-operation of the American Red Cross with the American Hospital Association.

At the request of the hospital association the Red Cross is distributing supplies intended for war purposes among needy hospitals in the United States.

At the Lake Division Red Cross warehouse there are sufficient supplies to fill 3,000 more cases. These will be distributed as orders are received from the American Hospital Association. It is one way the Red Cross is adjusting its war-time organization to peacetime needs.

A Word About the Fresh Meat Business

We feel justified in asking for the patronage of the people of Louisa and vicinity in the Meat line because we conduct the business all the year around. It has been the practice here for many years for one or more persons to engage in the fresh meat business during the more profitable season and drop out when warm weather comes with reduced demand for meat and with the heavy expense for ice, etc.

When the price of cattle dropped recently we reduced the price of meat accordingly. It is our intention to treat the public right at all times and to give the best service possible.

We also carry a good line of Groceries and will appreciate your patronage.

STUDENTS CALL NATION STRIKE

Form Patriotic Society—Close Shops and Banks to Gain Patriotic Demands.

Miss Harriet Smith, Y. W. C. A. Student Secretary in China, Relates Amazing Story of How 20,000 Students Organized Themselves.

By BERNICE GRISWOLD.

Miss Harriet Smith, for ten years a student secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association in Shanghai, China, relates the amazing story of how 20,000 Chinese students organized themselves to oust the militarists from Government offices in Peking and how they succeeded in becoming the leaders of China.

Fearing that China was not to be protected from the aggression of other nations by the Peace Treaty, as she had expected to be, some 20,000 students, all of them between the ages of twelve and twenty-one years and including 8,000 girls, organized themselves into the Chinese Students' Patriotic Society immediately after the publication of the first draft of the Peace Treaty to fight for Chinese rights.

Their first move was to strike from school or, rather, from lectures, as they remained in their respective schools and spent so many hours daily in private study. They then organized into bands for getting out propaganda literature and for public speaking in the country and small towns and in the tea shops in poorer districts of the cities in order that they might reach the vast numbers of people who could not read.

Immediately upon organizing, the students published their demands, four in number: (1) that the militarists, who as a party were pro-Japanese and practically controlled the Government at Peking, be put out of office; (2) that Shantung be returned to China; (3) that the twenty-one demands made by Japan in 1915 be cancelled; (4) that there be freedom of speech and of the press. They also insisted that the Chinese constitution be finished.

An immense amount of literature was put out, much of it in the new phonetic script which is being launched in China, so that the uneducated classes might learn what was happening. Students lectured everywhere on the demands, stirring the people to patriotism. When many of them were arrested while parading in the streets of Peking they formed an Association of Imprisoned Students within the prison and refused to be released, picketing the blockade themselves when Government guards were taken away, until the Government submitted a proper apology for having imprisoned them in the beginning.

When it became evident that economic pressure was all that would be effective both the bankers' and merchants' guilds were called upon to back the students. "In less than two hours," Miss Smith said, "the shutters were up at every shop in that great city of Shanghai, where telephones are few and communication difficult. Every shop, whether large or small, was closed. The laboring people, feeling as patriotic as the bankers, merchants and students, also joined the general strike. For a week everything was closed—shops, money exchanges, fish markets, shipping, everything. The students struggled to keep public utilities running. The telephone service was stopped for a short time, but the students soon had it running again. They held meetings day and night, trying to keep the railroad employees at their posts and explaining that it was patriotism for them and for water works and electric light employees to continue to work. At the end of that week the students had won the first point and the militarists were out of power.

ing to keep the railroad employees at their posts and explaining that it was patriotism for them and for water works and electric light employees to continue to work. At the end of that week the students had won the first point and the militarists were out of power.

When suffrage in any form finally comes to China Miss Smith feels that it will be granted to both men and women because of the way women are helping to build things up now. Women students took an active part in all of this bloodless revolution. They had their places on all of the councils. Their part of the work was to translate much of the literature into phonetic script and when a boycott was declared on Japanese goods to begin production of goods in China.

"All of the students threw away their straw hats—purely Japanese products—at the beginning of their movement, and the women students set about making white duck hats, which were called patriotic hats and immediately became very popular. Then they began devoting themselves to the making of parasols and of talcum powder. Some of them paraded, but none was arrested.

"China is the last country in the world to fear class feeling and antipathy, which seems to be gripping the rest of the world," Miss Smith says. "In China there is a wonderful social solidarity. People got together, not so much by localities, but by trades and professions. Every one belongs to a guild, and these guilds are wonderfully organized, as the Chinese have a genius for organization. Despite poor lines of communication, lack of railroads and telephones, these guilds hold closely together. Yet their organization has nothing to do with caste.

"With a leadership as highly organized as that of the students a great amount can be done. Leading men of China interpret the student movement as very significant—the forming of a new national party. It is the duty of all Christian organizations in China to give these students, who are now the leaders of the Government, every possible bit of aid and inspiration, as they need more than human help to bring China out of her difficulties successfully. The Y. W. C. A. is doing what it can to help the women students. All of these students have given up their vacations and are working hard throughout the summer."

Miss Smith has seen China change, within ten years, from one of the oldest and most rigid monarchies of the world into a republic. She saw the first republican flags go up and feels that China has accomplished a great deal, fighting all the time as she has, against the great odds of Japanese and European aggression in addition to the old monarchistic party. Given time, China will become one of the great republics of the world, she says.

Miss Smith lives in Richmond, Va., and is home on a year's furlough. She expects to return to China in the spring.

REMOLD NEW WORLD TASK FOR NATIONS

MUST BE DONE WITH ALL PEOPLE "ON THEIR NERVES," DECLARES DR. J. R. MOTT.

TALKS TO STATE Y. M. C. A.

Plastic From War's Blasts All the Nations Can Be Shaped to New Ideals.

After an absence of twenty years, Dr. John R. Mott, of New York, the General Secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., was the guest of Louisville and Kentucky on the occasion of the state-wide conference on the second of the month. Dr. Mott was given a remarkable reception, and in the opening words of his address at the evening dinner, precipitated a volume of cheers and great enthusiasm from the three hundred and fifty people in the spacious auditorium of the Seelbach Hotel.

"We have come out into a new day, a day of citizenship, and we'll follow one President in this great undertaking of reaching out to help the nations of the world," he declared. His expression brought a storm of applause, which grew into loud cheers of enthusiasm. Continuing, Dr. Mott paid a glowing tribute to the hard work, unselfishness and sacrifices of President Wilson. He spoke touchingly of the adverse news from Washington concerning the condition of the chief executive, and asked that he be specially remembered in the prayers of the audience that "God would spare him to the American people in a time when he is so sorely needed."

"I think if he could be here tonight and hear your cheers he would be heartened," Dr. Mott said.

Allies Want Y. M. C. A. in Armies.

In his discourse Dr. Mott disclosed that every one of the allies of the United States, to the number of twenty, have expressed the desire to have the Y. M. C. A. established in their standing armies as a result of the observation of its workings in the American army, and it only remains for the

John R. Mott.

United States Senate, he said, to decide that this country will "try the experiment" of running the army without it. He predicted that it will be an experiment of short duration, and that the "Y" work will be resumed on the old basis before a great while.

Dr. Mott addressed six meetings Thursday, completing a strenuous day, and leaving that night for Cincinnati, reaching Washington City the following Saturday for an important conference.

The luncheon meeting for state secretaries and district chairmen was widely representative of Kentucky, according to the word of State Y. M. C. A. officers, and the dinner meeting in the evening was equally representative of Louisville. The quota of this city in the coming campaign, $41,000, was announced.

The luncheon was presided over by L. L. Anderson of Louisville, the president of the State Y. M. C. A. and campaign chairman. General Chas. P. Summerall, Commander of the First Division, the famous "Fighting First in France," and new commander of Camp Taylor, was the first speaker of the program and the first appearance of the general as a speaker in Louisville.

"I am no speaker," said General Summerall, "but anyone is able to talk on such a subject as the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the war."

General Summerall spoke eloquently on the great service the Y. M. C. A. rendered, and said in substance:

"The crowning inspiration of the Y. M. C. A. was sending the splendid women, who brought the spirit of the mothers and sisters to the soldiers. They sustained the splendid morale of the army and were a real factor in winning the war."

Mr. P. C. Dix, the State Secretary, made a ringing statement of the actual achievements of the State Y. M. C. A., dwelling upon the results secured by the district scheme of organization. He said there is a Y. M. C. A. secretary competent and experienced in Y. M. C. A. work and a committee back of him, for every ten counties in the state. This plan has been in actual operation for the past two years and is not a piece of imagination caused by the war and presented as paper plans. The work presented in the State Y. M. C. A. publication, "At 11 for Seventy-five Years," was a real report of statewide activities that represented the entire state. "Our machinery," he said, "makes it possible for us to carry a message to every high school in the state in a period of eleven days, and if it were not for some of the pieces some of you come from, counties that have no railroads in them, we could make it in less time than this." "Now our most timely question is," he continued, "will you make it possible for the State Y. M. C. A. to maintain and extend its scheme of work so as to care for the needs of young men and boys in the small counties of the unorganized fields, or will it be compelled to reduce its organization to such an extent that some other organization will come in whose motive will be other than the religious one."

Following Mr. Dix, Rev. R. T. Noes of Frankfort eloquently advocated the policy of the Y. M. C. A.'s occupying the entire field and offered a motion to that effect; seconded in an equally earnest and eloquent tone by Glibney Oscar Letcher, an attorney of Henderson. On the call of the campaign director, C. A. Tevebaugh, every district from the "Purchase" to the Big Sandy reported organization and a hearty acceptance of their quota of the statewide objective.

Dr. Mott's Address.

John R. Mott's address was one of the most impressive discourses ever delivered in Louisville. The distinguished American was introduced by Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, who, in presenting the guest of honor, called attention to the many conspicuous positions of leadership which Dr. Mott has occupied. Among these were head of the Student Volunteer Movement for years; head of the organization of the International Y. M. C. A.; head of the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., and head of the Edinburgh Conference. "Though a layman, Dr. Mott is the outstanding religious figure of the day, because the fire of his spiritual devotion burns so strong and so bright in the midst of a practical life," concluded Dr. Mullins.

Dealing With a New World.

"I remind you that you are dealing with a new world—a shaken, quivering world—a world in which pillars that were deemed pillars of strength, have crumbled to dust at our feet," said Dr. Mott, after a brief preliminary which explained that he had for the past thirty-one years been "cruising" over the world on missions of helpfulness in forty-six countries; that he had visited the war zones of Europe six times during the course of the world war and had traveled 7,000 miles on the eastern front.

Continuing, the speaker said: It is an impoverished world also, for up to six months ago it had cost over 200 billions of dollars; it is an exhausted world both economically and vitally; as demonstrated by the 11,000,000 graves that have been filled because of the struggle; and it is still a sorrowing and suffering world, for in all my six visits to the war zones I spent much of my time in the homes, and none that I can recall but had been visited once, and often many times by the dark shadow of death."

The World is "On Its Nerves."

Dr. Mott said that the people everywhere impressed him as being "on their nerves" and in a state of irritability, which is productive of criticism. He declared that it is a wonderful time to live when a whole world is accessible to new ideas. Comparatively speaking, it is an unselfish world too, he said, for although it is not so unselfish as it was a year ago or two years ago, it is far more unselfish than before the war.

"I had thought that I might see one of two nations plastic, but I never thought to see a whole world today and plastic as is the world today—but it will set, and set hard in a new mold, and this is the golden opportunity of an organization like the Y. M. C. A., which can render a unique service at this time because of its contact with both capital and labor in the industrial unrest. Its forward-looking program in the development of young manhood physically, intellectually and spiritually, can be a determining factor in the molding of the nations, for I have been thrown with the leaders of many of the nations and none of them are aware that they know the way. Yes, it is a humble world, too, for where is there a nation today which boasts that it knows how to deal with its problems?" he said.

Praises State Y. M. C. A. Work.

"I have been particularly impressed with the plans which have just been laid before you men of Kentucky. I am sure you cannot realize how far reaching this program may be. Because of this, I would like to say that by a peculiar circumstance, I have been able to get a larger view—a setting as it were—on the effect of just what such an enterprise may accomplish; by reason of the fact that I have traveled in every country in the world, have been associated with the peoples and leaders of so many nations, and have watched the virus of Bolshevism, which seeks to cleave the nations into class hatred, spread over Europe and the United States. I would say that you can have no conception of the multiplying possibilities of this program; or of the healing possibilities of its application. It is a pivotal campaign. There will be new energies released. It looks into the successes and visions of the churches."

Army "Y" Men Elect.

The Army Y. M. C. A., attending the conference, about 100 in number, met in the afternoon and organized the Army Y. M. C. A. Club. Harry V. Chesney of Frankfort was elected president; Glibney Oscar Letcher of Henderson, vice president, and L. J. Darter of Louisville, secretary and treasurer.

Girls! Your hair needs a little "Danderine"—that's all! When it becomes lifeless, thin or loses its lustre; when ugly dandruff appears, or your hair falls out, a 35-cent bottle of delightful, dependable, "Danderine" from any store, will save your hair, also double its beauty. You can have nice, thick hair, too.

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH IN KENTUCKY

In the past eight years in Kentucky, 214 new officeholders have been given jobs at an increased cost to taxpayers of $226,939.99 a year. That is $42,915.99 a month or over $1,440.60 every day including Sundays.

The fire marshal's office costs you taxpayers twice as much under Stanley as under Wilson (Republican). In the Agricultural Department, the cost of the office has increased from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. The cost of the office of the State Engineer has increased from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. The cost of the office of the State Auditor has increased from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. The cost of the office of the State Treasurer has increased from $1,000 to $2,000 a year. Increase in Job Holders and Extravagance of Those Already in Office the Cause of Increased Taxes

Leading Democrats say there is no hope of better things under Governor Black.

Justice Carroll said: "The people want a house cleaning at Frankfort. They want to see some new men and some new faces in the offices and departments. They want to get rid of the names that have become familiar only because of long tenure of office. I again repeat and the Democrats of the State know it, that the officeholders have taken possession of the State in which they are not leading every effort to secure the nomination. IF WE IS GOVERNOR THOMAS BARNETT BE AND WILL NOT BE, ANY BUSINESS REFORMS OR ANY CUTTING DOWN OF UNNECESSARY EXPENSES OR CUTTING OFF OF USELESS OFFICERS OR EMPLOYEES."

Miss M. Loran, former Attorney General, said: "Before he became Governor the officeholders under the present administration put a ring in his nose and have been leading him around ever since."

Democratic Papers Denounce Stanley Administration

The Louisville Post (Dem.) said: "The whole state is clamoring for a man who will clean house, but Mr. Black leaves the house as it is. He has had a great opportunity and he has failed miserably and before the whole state to take advantage of it. He is a weak, plain, a cautious, timid man, who wants office largely for the sake of the office. Under him things would be largely as they are."

The Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.) said: "If he is a strong, able and effective man he will set about at once to cure the ills which have afflicted the administration of his predecessor. He will make special effort to destroy suspicion and rumors which are at large to the effect that he has entered into an alliance or understanding with Senator Stanley and the latter's personal adherents by which he is committed to an attitude of hostility toward the Stanley record."

KENTUCKY IN THE HOLE

The United States Census Bureau at Washington has just issued a report, "Financial Statistics of States" for 1918 which says that 30 of the 48 States paid all expenses, including interest and money for permanent improvements. Kentucky was not one of the 30. This report also says that Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia not only paid expenses but were a million dollars to the good. Kentucky, within a stone's throw of all of them did not even pay expenses.

"They Say."

As much harm is caused by the two apparently simple words "they say," as by any two words in the English language. Unfortunately there are still a few old tabbies who like to repeat unwholesome tales about their neighbors and in lieu of authority to quote these tales as coming from any particular person, they always begin "They say" such and such a thing is true. The next time you hear anyone begin a sentence with "they say," just stop him and ask him "who says?" Ten is one he can't tell you. Of course this particular person may be innocent of any wrong-doing, for probably the person who told him introduced his remarks with "they say." It is best not repeat unpleasant tales at all, but never repeat such stories unless you have absolute foundation for their truth, and "they say" is anything but such.

Love in a cottage may often be less heavenly than it is generally supposed to be, but it can never be as bad as constant nagging in a $300 a month apartment.

Work hard but don't be afraid to take a minute to laugh or joke. It helps you, it helps your fellow worker, and it helps the work you are doing.

It is hard to lose faith in your best friend, but even that is bearable so long as you keep faith in yourself.

Dignify Your Job.

A great many of us are very much afraid of having our dignity lowered, yet most of us make the mistake of believing that dignity comes from outward circumstances, whereas, it is, in reality, an attitude of mind. Many of us seek high sounding titles believing that they increase our dignity. They do have a long distance effect, but as soon as people come in personal contact with us, our dignity gets a fearful bump unless we have true dignity within us. Any work that is honorable is dignified, and it depends on the worker whether or not it appears so. A delivery boy can put just as much dignity into his job as a bank president. Don't think any kind of labor is beneath you if it is honorable work, because just as sure as you feel this way, you will work down to your job instead of up and the job will certainly "pan out" accordingly.

There is always some discussion amongst wise heads about the comparative aid from inventions which men and women have in turning out their work. It was the writer's fortune recently to hear a discussion of the very point, and it developed that contrary to what is commonly believed, women really have as great a number of labor saving devices to aid them with their house work as men have to aid them with their farm work. But the commonly accepted idea arises, much to the discredit of husbands in general, from the fact that as a rule women are not supplied with labor saving devices by the men of their family in anything like the same proportion that the men buy labor saving devices for themselves. Undoubtedly the men feel that they earn the living and should be permitted to have as much aid as mechanical skill can give them. Of course there is much truth in this, but let me say that a man can earn just twice as good a living if he leaves and returns daily to a home which is well-kept and to a wife who is fresh and happy and not worn out with drudgery. And how can he expect her to keep up with all modern demands on her time unless she has a few modern labor saving inventions to help her out!

Think this over, husbands, and surprise your wife some Saturday night with some new wrinkle that will save her many a backache and perhaps a heartache. You'll find you'll get your money back with interest when you see her happy smile.

To whatever occupation a young man or a young woman expects to devote life, whatever business or trade or profession he chooses, let him first be a man—let her first be a woman, broad minded and great hearted. But this requires education, and education requires effort—great and prolonged effort—for there is "no royal road to intellectual eminence," and effort requires decision. To all the opportunity comes, but each must decide for himself whether he will seize the opportunity or let it slip by.

Nothing can be accomplished by constant nagging, for those who are nagged soon become accustomed to it and give no heed. It is useless and unnecessary and often destroys the peace and happiness of the home.

Don't allow yourself to be bored. It makes you uninteresting and old in spirit—if not in years. If it is not natural for you to be interested in things about you, force yourself to be for awhile and soon it will become natural and enjoyable to listen to others. Their varied interests are every bit as worthwhile as yours, and if you have a friendly feeling toward your fellow men and show yourself interested in their comings and goings, you will find your own life many times as interesting.

What do we live for? Is it to find fault with everyone about us, or cheerfully lend a hand when needed and do our best toward making this a happy world?

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would grip me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use. Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

Finishing a Telephone Talk

It is always good practice to close your telephone talk by saying "good-bye."

If you hang up the receiver without doing so, the party to whom you are talking may continue to talk or at least remain at the telephone, wasting his time and keeping the line from being used by somebody else.

The "good-bye" at the end of a telephone talk is an infallible signal to hang up the receiver without delay—it terminates the telephone talk graciously and effectively.

When you telephone—smile!

Death of Mrs. R. T. Marra.

Just before 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, September 15, 1919, Mrs. Mary Anna Dalton Marra, of Coal Run, passed away at the home of her son, Jas. B. Marra, of Pikeville.

Mrs. Marra was born in Logan county, W. Va., October 8, 1850, and was married September 18, 1867, to R. T. Marra, of Pike county, Ky. Their marriage was the culmination of a love affair that began during the civil war. The husband and six children, eleven grand children and three great-grand children survive. The children are: Nellie F. Gillespie, of Coal Run; R. L. Marra, of Great Cocopan, W. Va.; Jas. B. Marra, of Pikeville; Mrs. W. M. Stokes, of Lucasville Ohio; Mrs. W. F. Morrell, of Hickory, N. C., and Wm. Marra, of Guyandotte, W. Va. Two children having preceded her, are Henry Marra, an infant who died July 5, 1883, and Victoria M. Ratcliff, wife of J. C. Ratcliff, of Boldman, who died July 22, 1906, leaving one son, Hugh Ratcliff. Two brothers survive: James Dalton, of Richlands, Va., and Thos. Dalton, of Inez, Martin county.

Her illness was of long duration but she was not thought to be seriously ill until a few days before her death which was caused by stomach trouble. She told her eldest daughter that to live longer would mean suffering and all would be over in the world. All of her children were present at her death and she asked them to meet her in heaven about an hour before her death. She was converted in a series of meetings held by Rev. Eikana Johnson in 1870 and was a consistent member of the M. E. Church South. She was laid to rest in the family cemetery at the old home at Boldman, Ky., Sept. 18, 1919. All the children, two great-grand children and all the grandchildren except one—Curtis A. Adams who is attending school in Boston, attended the burial services. Also a number of relatives and a most of friends were present. Rev. M. C. Reynolds, of Coal Run, had charge of the funeral services.

Much sympathy is extended to all, especially the husband whose age makes her loss doubly sad, and Reece Meadows a son of her only sister, that Mrs. Marra has given a mother's care and home since the death of his mother several years ago, which left him an infant a few months old.

She was a lovely woman, genial and happy in disposition, a refined and sweet christian character and a devoted wife and mother. She will be sadly missed by her relatives and many friends.

Brighter fairer far than living,
With no trace of woe or pain;
Robed in everlasting beauty,
Shall we see thee once again?
By the light that never fades,
Underneath eternal skies,
When the dawn of resurrection
Breaks o'er breathless Paradise.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses without soreness or irritation. Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

WILL BUILD FARM HOME FOR WAIFS

"Back To the Soil" For Destitute In Kentucky Children's Home

GOVERNOR INDORSES PLAN

The Kentucky Children's Home Society, exclusively devoted to the care of homeless children, will make a drive throughout the state the week of October 27 to 31, for the purpose of raising $800,000. Dedicate plans have been made and Governor Black has issued a proclamation asking the unqualified support of all Kentuckians.

The Kentucky Children's Home is one of the state's unique institutions. During its twenty-five years of existence it has sent 9,000 children into good homes and has insured them "a square deal" from the world.

It cares for children who otherwise would be uncared for. It gives protection to those who otherwise would have no protection. It is operated by a personnel that works because its members love to work among children.

Need New Equipment.

At present, the society is housed in a group of old residences in Louisville. These buildings are not adapted to the needs of the institution and children are crowded. They must sleep in crowded rooms and play on crowded play grounds.

When the drive is completed, the society plans to eliminate this congestion. Eighty-six acres of land have been purchased ten miles from Louisville on the Louisville and Nashville railroad and a complete cottage farm system has been planned.

This will give children all the room they need, will insure their health and take them from the mark and confusing influences of the city.

The society now has 300 children under its care. When the new home is completed it will be able to care five many more.

The success of the drive is not a question of locality. The society is a state institution and cares for the state's homeless children. Those in one section are as interested as those in another.

Given Wide Support.

The proposed campaign for funds has thus far received united support. Clergymen, teachers and prominent citizens have signified their approval. One hundred and ten county school superintendents are backing the proposition.

ALL UP TO THE SCHOOL-MA'AMS

Kentucky Teachers Are Most Important Factor In $300,000 Drive

GILBERT URGES ACTION

"The country school-ma'am—that faithful, endearing bulwark of progress and enlightenment—is the personage on whom the success of Kentucky's $300,000 drive to build a new Children's Home depends. The country school-ma'am is the one who is in the direct position to take charge of the campaign in her school and get the children interested," according to George L. Nelson, superintendent of the Kentucky Children's Home Society.

V. O. Gilbert, state superintendent of schools, urges all teachers to put their best efforts into the campaign until it closes the last week in October. "County superintendents are often too busy to enter personally into the campaign, and perhaps the teachers think it is not up to them to take the initiative in the matter. I want to urge all county superintendents to put forth their best efforts into the campaign, but if some should happen to forget their duty in this matter, I want to see the teachers themselves take hold and push it through to the great success it deserves. Many of the prominent people over the state who would be willing to direct a campaign in their locality, are busy taking part in the political campaign. Here is a chance for teachers over the state to show their initiative and qualities of leadership and management in their schools and communities."

A Business Investment.
The new home which will be built after the campaign, will be a group of cottages on a farm ten miles from Louisville. This will provide wholesome surroundings for the children, and the duties connected with the management of the farm will give vocational training to the older children in the care of the Kentucky Children's Home Society.

"It is not only a good, charitable cause, but a sound business investment," Mr. Nelson said. "Instead of the constant yearly drain to provide for the Kentucky children that come into our care, we will have fifty acres of ground upon which to raise provisions, which will more than pay for the cost of the food supplies. The Odd Fellows' Home at Eminence, Ky., which cultivates thirty-seven acres, raises more food than is consumed.

PIPE LINE COMPLETED.
Mr. A. B. Ayers came in from Martha Thursday and reported the pipe line completed. The first run of oil was to be made Thursday evening or Friday morning. 1800 barrels is ready to run and the pumps on the wells will be started as soon as the tanks are empty. Mr. and Mrs. Ayers will prepare a feast for the pipe line men Friday.
